

Feiro Marine Life Center Presents:

Connections Workshop

Guiding Student and Classroom Environmental Projects

Through the Pacific Education Institute's Connections Workshop, community members, natural resource professionals and educators will experience first-hand PEI's Project-Based Learning Plan, which can be used to involve classrooms or senior project students in real-world environmental project opportunities.

Participants also learn about inquiry as a teaching tool, field investigations, and how to connect senior project students and classrooms to project opportunities and local resources.

Who: Agencies, organizations, businesses and educators interested in connecting students with environmentally-oriented projects.

When: Tuesday, February 2, 2010, from 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m.

Where: Feiro Marine Life Center Classroom, 315 North Lincoln Street, Port Angeles, WA. (360) 417-6254.

Cost: This workshop is FREE. Teachers will also receive free clock hours. Substitute reimbursement grants are available. Snacks, coffee, and tea will be provided.

For more information or to register, contact Deborah Moriarty, Feiro Marine Life Center: (360) 417-6254, Deborah.Moriarty@noaa.gov

